Problems I help people with

Do you know someone who is:

- Constantly putting other people's needs and priorities above their own resulting in feeling tired, drained and overwhelmed?
- Unwilling to allow themselves time for fun and enjoyment...but desperately needs it?
- Persistently worried about their future so they can't enjoy the present?
- Plagued by self doubt, repeatedly needing approval and reassurance from others before making decisions?
- A hyper self critical perfectionist unable to see the good they do?
- Unable to switch off from work when spending time with family?
- Constantly consumed with the day to day and putting out fires that they make no time for forward thinking?

These are my people.

Who Am I?

Yoni Spinka is an executive performance coach and Rabbi who has spent the last ten plus years combining ancient and mystical wisdom with modern psychology and coaching practices.. He helps executives and CEOs achieve clarity and direction in their decision making, resulting in transformational growth in self perception. Using fun as a gateway drug, Yoni helps his clients prioritize their OWN needs without becoming self-absorbed. The result? Better performance at work, greater work / life balance and higher levels of personal satisfaction.

When he's not coaching you can probably find him on the tennis court, at the ice rink snapping a puck, biking with his kids or gleaning wisdom from a page of Talmud. He lives in Philadelphia together with his wife and 5 children.

Testimonials

"Yoni Spinka is a compassionate coach who never lets his compassion overrule his honesty and relentless pursuit of our best selves as his clients. Growth is difficult and Yoni is there not just to listen to what we are going through, but to hold us accountable to growing, learning and transforming ourselves in a sustained, long term way. I worked with Yoni for 6+ months and I found those months to be transformative, including mindset shifts and mental reprogramming that helped me see things more clearly so I could actualize my goals" - PHD Professor NYU

Problems I Help People With

Do you know someone who:

- Constantly prioritizes others' needs over their own, leaving them feeling drained and overwhelmed?
- Struggles to enjoy fun and relaxation despite desperately needing it?
- Worries so much about the future that they can't enjoy the present?
- Is plagued by self-doubt, always seeking approval and reassurance before making decisions?
- Is overly self-critical and unable to acknowledge their achievements?
- Finds it hard to disconnect from work when spending time with family?
- Feels stuck managing day-to-day crises, leaving no room for forward-thinking?

Your LinkedIn "About" section has a lot of personality and effectively communicates your unique value as a performance coach. However, it can be fine-tuned to be more concise, polished, and targeted while still retaining its conversational and relatable tone. Here's a revised version:

About

I'm an executive performance coach and Rabbi with over a decade of experience blending ancient wisdom, mystical traditions, modern psychology, and coaching practices. I specialize in helping executives and CEOs gain clarity, prioritize their own needs (without becoming self-absorbed), and unlock transformational growth in self-perception.

My approach combines depth and practicality—with a touch of fun as the gateway to serious change. The results?

- Sharper decision-making
- Improved performance
- Greater work-life balance
- Heightened personal satisfaction

Who I Work With

I support leaders who feel:

- Drained and overwhelmed by always putting others first
- Trapped by persistent worry about the future, unable to enjoy the present
- Stuck in cycles of self-doubt, needing constant reassurance to make decisions
- Caught in hyper-critical perfectionism, unable to recognize their own impact
- Unable to fully disconnect from work, even during family time
- Overwhelmed by day-to-day demands, leaving no room for forward thinking

If this resonates, let's connect. Together, we'll create clarity, focus, and balance so you can thrive—not just professionally, but personally too.

This version:

1. Streamlines your core message for better readability.
2. Organizes your audience's pain points into a clear, bulleted list.
3. Emphasizes outcomes to make your value clear.
4. Maintains your approachable tone while adding professionalism.

What do you think? Would you like any further tweaks?

Version 2

Here's a refined version of your LinkedIn "About" section with additional tweaks for tone, flow, and impact:

About

I'm an executive performance coach and Rabbi with over a decade of experience blending ancient wisdom, mystical insights, modern psychology, and coaching techniques. My mission is to help executives and CEOs achieve clarity, make confident decisions, and experience transformational growth—both professionally and personally.

With a unique approach that combines depth, practicality, and a dash of fun, I empower my clients to prioritize their needs without guilt or self-absorption. The results?

- Stronger decision-making skills
- Greater work-life harmony
- Improved performance and focus
- Deeper personal fulfillment

Who I Work With

I specialize in working with high-achieving individuals who:

- Feel drained and overwhelmed by constantly putting others first
- Struggle to enjoy the present due to persistent worry about the future
- Battle self-doubt, relying on others' approval to move forward
- Are trapped in perfectionism and unable to see the good they do
- Find it hard to disconnect from work, even during family time
- Spend so much time putting out fires that long-term goals fall by the wayside

If you recognize yourself in these challenges, let's connect. My coaching helps you regain clarity, confidence, and balance so you can excel in your work—and truly enjoy your life.

Key Improvements Made:

1. Clearer structure: The "Who I Work With" section now has a strong introduction to focus the reader.
2. More polished tone: While still approachable, the language is slightly more professional to appeal to executive audiences.
3. Streamlined outcomes: Refined the benefits to focus on what high-level decision-makers value most.
4. Action-oriented close: Ends with a direct invitation to connect, making it clear how you can help.

Would you like this adjusted further, or does it feel ready to use?

Coach & Rabbi

Learn how to create a happy relationship:

- Without improving communication.
- Without solving the problems.
- Even if she never changes.

It doesn't take two to save a marriage.

Bring. Back. The. Bliss.

"Enjoy life with the wife you love" King Solomon, Ecclesiastes 9:9

Looking to explode their confidence, feel great and bring back passion.

No one cares about process.

After 8 weeks you will:

- Understand yourself on a whole new level.
- Be able to assert your needs in a way that works FOR YOU.
- Learn how to take time off from the relationship.
- Know how to deal with triggers.
- Do kind things for her even when she hurts you.
- Love her even when she is wrong.
- Feel full confidence in who you are.

Excited to be launching a new group!

No, you won't learn communication skills.

Heard from a friend this week: "Why aren't you focusing on communication? I would think that's something people want."

Also heard from the same friend 2 days later:

"Just yesterday my husband and I were sitting with our marriage therapist and he went right for:

"oh this is how you guys are miscommunicating and how you need to communicate better" and he gave us some tools for that.

But there was something inside of me that said "wait a minute, the communication is just the outflow of what is already going on that's wrong and how do we address that?? She ended the voice note with "I feel that you are onto something and I really wish my husband could meet with you actually!"

I have spent years developing a new path for relationship success and it all starts with INDIVIDUAL work.

Please forward or DM if you know someone who could benefit from this.

PERSONAL, BUSINESS & RELATIONSHIP COACHING WITH STEVE HARDISON

Most coaches have a script or a program. These coaches buff, tweak, and improve your life or your business – a little. I change lives. I have no set curriculum because you are my material. My program is in your speaking.

You speak. I listen. We dance. Your life ignites.

I love the experience of being with another person in the space of created trust, commitment, and vision. I am constantly amazed at what gets generated when two or three people sit together, speak, and listen from a space of safety and candor. There is nothing quite like creation. I love what I do and I love whom I do it with.

If you need medication, get a good psychiatrist. If you need therapy, get a good psychologist. If you want to be in a created space that will allow you to see clearly and be clear, work with me.

Spinka Group Coaching & Consulting

Is This You?

You're a high-performing professional in finance, law, or business who has achieved success but feels stuck, unfocused, or burnt out. You know there's another level of clarity, performance, and fulfillment available — but despite your drive, you haven't been able to unlock it on your own.

Who I Work With

I've coached hedge fund managers, crypto millionaires, top executives at Binance, law firm owners, and Forbes 30 Under 30 honorees. My clients include leaders at Raymour & Flanigan, Deloitte, and entrepreneurs shaping industries across finance, law, technology, and entertainment.

What Clients Say

"Yoni helped me break through paralysis and take consistent daily action. Within a week, I closed nearly $9,000 in sales by simply following his guidance to stay consistent and reach out. His coaching created real momentum in my business."

– Greer T., Small Business Owner

"Over six months of working with Yoni, I experienced real transformation — from powerful mindset shifts to practical strategies that helped me see more clearly and achieve my goals. His accountability and guidance made all the difference."

– David L., Hedge Fund Manager

"When I started working with Yoni, I was skeptical about coaching and unsure if it was worth the investment. Four months later, I can say it was one of the best decisions I've made. The progress I've made in my relationships, balance, and personal growth has been remarkable — worth every penny."

– Aaron B., Tech Entrepreneur

"Thank you again for our life coaching sessions! You helped me visualize exactly what I wanted from this crazy life and put it all into action."

– Harrison Forman, Co-Founder of UpDating (Entertainment Entrepreneur)

About Me

When I'm not coaching, you'll find me on the tennis court, at the ice rink, biking with my kids, or studying Talmud. I live in Philadelphia with my wife and our five children.
